Expand your research horizons and make critical breakthroughs. Our library catalog now includes enhancements like reader reviews, recommendations, author bios and excerpts, helping you pinpoint the sources you’re looking for – and find those you didn’t know existed.

SPQR: A history of ancient Rome / Mary Beard

Location
Your Branch

Call No.
DG231 .B43 2015

Status
On the Shelf

Summary
About The Author
Reader Reviews
Awards

Look Inside
Also Available As
Browse Shelf

You May Also Like
Tags

Ancient Rome was an imposing city even by modern standards, a sprawling imperial metropolis of more than one million inhabitants, a “mixture of luxury and filth, liberty and exploitation, civic pride and murderous civil war” that served as the seat of power for an empire that spanned from Spain to Syria. Yet how did all this emerge from what was an insignificant village in central Italy? (read more)

About The Author

Mary Beard

Mary Beard was born on January 1, 1955 in Much Wenlock, Shropshire, England. Her alma mater is the University of Cambridge. She is a professor of classics at Newnham College, Cambridge, and classics editor of the Times Literary Supplement. Her previous books include the best-seller: Pompeii: The Fading Shadows. (read more)

Find what you’re looking for, even if you didn’t know it existed.