ProQuest History Vault consists of manuscript and archival collections digitized in partnership with a wide variety of archival institutions. Many of the collections in History Vault were originally available in microfilm from the University Publications of America (UPA) research collections, and others come from the University Microfilms International (UMI) research collections, with additional collections scanned from the original documents. ProQuest History Vault debuted in 2011 with about three million pages of material and has grown to over 18 million pages in 45 different modules. These millions of pages of important archival collections give students the opportunity to make new research discoveries in content areas like Southern Life, Slavery, and the Civil War; Civil Rights and the Black Freedom Struggle in the 20th Century; Women’s Studies; American Politics and Society; and International Relations and Military Conflicts.

Better together. Give your students a comprehensive view into American history with these complementary primary-source collections:

- British Periodicals
- Colonial State Papers
- Digital National Security Archive
- Documents on British Policies Overseas
- Historical Statistical Abstracts of the United States
- Statistical Abstracts of the United States
- UK Parliamentary Papers: House of Commons (18th-21st century), House of Lords (19th century) and Public Petitions to Parliament (1833-1918)
- US Congressional, Legislative Insight, Regulatory Insight and Indian Claims Insight
